

2018-2019 Cost of Attendance

Revised March 14, 2018

To establish a student's financial need and the total aid a student may receive under the Federal Direct Loan and Federal Work-Study programs, PSR Financial Aid calculates an estimated cost of attendance, or standard student budget, for each financial aid applicant. Listed below are the cost components and amounts used in determining an applicant's cost of attendance for the Fall and Spring enrollment periods. Costs incurred prior to the start of the academic year and costs that do not directly apply to the categories listed below are generally not considered when establishing a student's financial aid package. Please note that these figures represent a 12-credit Fall/Spring course load. Each student's actual credit loads and their resulting tuition charges will vary.

The non-tuition figures listed are provided as estimates for the 2018-2019 academic year. Actual costs for non-tuition expenses will vary from student to student. We recommend that each student create a personal budget using actual or projected costs to estimate one's budget and financial need most accurately. Additions and/or adjustments can be considered for each student's cost of attendance should this standard COA be drastically different from the student's actual costs or if the student incurs extra costs such as child care and the one-time purchase of a computer.
